Create an impact with Guide Dogs

Want to make an IMPACT and engage your team?

Are you looking for a meaningful and exciting way for your team or workplace to create an impact? Why not take part in an Impact Day at Guide Dogs?

Here at Guide Dogs we have been supporting people with low vision and blindness for over 60 years. Whether it's matching someone with a life-changing guide dog or teaching a young child to use their first rainbow cane, our team are here to support Queenslanders of all ages to live with confidence, independence and freedom.

We'd love to share more of what we do here at Guide Dogs and invite you to come onsite for one of our exciting Impact Days.

Why take part in an Impact Day?

Volunteering with Guide Dogs through an Impact Day offers an engaging way for your team to get involved and give back. It also provides an incredible opportunity to develop teamwork skills, build stronger relationships, and increase both self and team values, helping to improve overall team culture.

We believe everyone can make an impact when they become part of the Guide Dogs community for a day and maybe even become a forever friend!

What does an Impact Day involve?

All our Impact Days can be tailored to your team's specific requirements and schedule. Typically, an Impact Day is hosted onsite at the Guide Dogs Bald Hills Nursery and Training Centre and includes:

- Taking part in the "Collection Dog challenge" to give a new lease on life to some of our more "tired" looking Collection Dogs. These iconic Collection Dogs help Guide Dogs raise significant funding through the community each year and now you can be part of this impact too!
- A behind-the-scenes tour of the Guide Dogs campus and facilities.
- The chance to meet our incredible guide dogs-in-training or some of our beautiful pups.
- The opportunity to take part in educational, hands-on activities and gain insight into what day-to-day tasks are like for someone with low vision or blindness.
- The chance to see firsthand some of the ways we support our clients through specialised programs and services.
- A light lunch and a great team-bonding opportunity at the beautiful Guide Dogs campus.
- A Supporter Pack for each participant to take home!
